Summary: Will the stupid plan of Otto, Laura, Wing and Shelby harm H.I.V.E? Weird and Random but oh well! One-shot.

What NOT to do to Colonel Francisco

"Hey, are we still doing the thing today?" Laura asked Otto as they walked to the Tactical Education Department for class.

"Yea. Is Shelby still on board?" Otto asked.

"Yes, she sounded very excited about it last night. She couldn't sleep," Laura said with a chuckle. Today, they were going to make H.I.V.E history in the Tactical Education class.

When they walked in, the whole class was there. Colonel Francisco was handing people grapplers.

"Today, we are going to see how fast all of you can go across the grappler training cavern. Line behind Franz. Go!" Francisco yelled.

Franz didn't make it across as usual. He fell into the black waters below. Otto, Laura, Shelby and Wing stood at the back of the line, getting ready to carry out their plan.

"Is the blackbox ready?" Otto asked Laura.

"Yup. Places everyone." Laura said. Otto walked with the blackbox up to the edge of the training cavern. Laura walked ahead of him. Shelby and Wing were doing their stealthy ninja thing (as Otto called it) and creeping up behind Francisco. Otto gave Laura the go signal.

"Uh, Sir?" She asked nervously.

"Yes, student Brand, what do you want?" Francisco asked, irritated.

"Well, I was wondering, what happens when-" Laura was cut off and Shelby and Wing ran into Francisco, knocking him off his feet. His fell over the edge of the cavern and into the black waters below.

"Colonel!" Laura yelled innocently, trying to hide her laughter as Shelby, Wing and Otto ran back into line.

"WHO DID THAT!" The colonel screamed.

"I don't know, I think they were thermoptically camouflaged," Laura said.

Francisco got up out of the water and grabbed his blackbox. He called Dr. Nero. Nero immediately started laughing when he saw Francisco.

"Its not funny! There are traitors in the school and they're thermoptically camouflaged!" Francisco said. Nero hung up, and instantly, sirens started wailing all over the schools.

"Get to your accommodation blocks!" Francisco yelled. Students ran out of the tactical education department and into the crowded hallway.

At accommodation block 7, Otto, Wing, Shelby and Laura stood in one corner of the atrium.

"I still got the video on the blackbox," Otto said.

"Okay, now I am going to get it onto youtube," Laura said, taking the blackbox from Otto and typing in some commands. Shelby had stolen the blackbox from a security guard, using her stealthy ninja thing.

"Its on youtube," Laura said, smiling. She tossed it in a nearby trashcan.

The false alarm may have had a huge effect on the school, but when "Grumpy Teacher Falls into Water" became the next youtube sensation, it had all been worth it.

A/N: I know its poor writing and kind of stupid but it was fun to write lol I kind of winged it so sorry that it sucks so bad, thanks for reading anyways! Review please!
